

Domestic Terrorism Workshop

March 30, 2010 Rochester, MN

Topics: Domestic Terrorism
Special Interest Groups
Explosives

Who Should Attend

State, local, tribal command and street-level law enforcement officers will benefit from attending this workshop. Course topics are designed to address pre-incident awareness and prevention, as well as to provide the participant with the knowledge and background of terrorist and criminal extremist techniques. Participants are also provided information useful in recognizing domestic and international terrorist and criminal extremist groups and individuals.

Instruction will be provided by experienced law enforcement practitioners and subject-matter experts.

There is NO charge for this course. Seven (7) POST credits have been applied for. Lunch will be provided. This training is made possible through funding from the Bureau of Justice Assistance (BJA), Office of Justice Programs, to the Institute for Intergovernmental Research® (IIR). Travel, lodging, and per diem expenses are the responsibility of the participant.

Instructors:

Robert Harris, Institute for Intergovernmental Research
Captain Charles Tilby, Eugene Oregon Police Department
Sean May, DHS/TSA Bomb Appraisal Officer Program Manager

Domestic Terrorism—This course explains the belief system of right-wing extremists and why they view the government as their enemy. It examines investigative, response, and officer safety strategies for agency use in identifying and managing domestic extremist cases.

Special-Interest/Anarchist Groups—This course explores the development of animal rights and ecological terrorism and the impact of the criminal anarchist movement. It also provides detailed information on the realities of ecoterrorism from a law enforcement perspective.
